ROSEBERY HAS RESIGNED

His Resignation Accepted Without Reluctance—Salisbury Summoned.

"Joe" and the Duke Have Been Invited to Join the New Tory Cabinet.

London, June 24.—Lord Rosebery has resigned. Lord Salisbury is summoned to London.

Commenting upon the resignation of the ministry the Times says: "The ministers must be congratulated upon having rejected trickery and the cowardly advice of one of their supporters to remain in office. Obstacles to the assumption of office by the Unionists coalition have been grossly exaggerated and can be easily overcome. We believe Lord Salisbury will feel it his duty to accept the task of forming a cabinet and the new ministry will be composed of representatives of both sections of the Unionist party. The dissolution with a view to which a Unionist ministry will be formed cannot long be delayed and it will not be necessary to fill all the places in the ministry before taking steps for an immediate appeal to the country."

The Daily News (Liberal) says: "The Queen has accepted Earl Rosebery's resignation as she accepted Mr. Gladstone's, without any expression of that reluctance with which she favored Lord Salisbury. The sitting of the cabinet was chiefly occupied in weighing the respective arguments for dissolution and resignation. The idea of reversing Friday's vote and proceeding with business found little support. We believe both Lord Rosebery and Sir Vernon Harcourt from the first strongly favored the course ultimately adopted. Lord Rosebery considered that the government which was weakened by defeat in the commons was not well qualified to deal with foreign affairs. When Sir Vernon Harcourt has announced the resignation in the commons he will probably move an adjournment for a few days. The impression prevails that Lord Salisbury will dissolve parliament immediately. It is well known that the opposition believe an election in July will give them the best chance of getting a majority." The Daily News says in an editorial: "Lord Rosebery and his colleagues have shown a high and prominent sense of what their honor and duty requires. It would be a base act to desert Mr. Campbell-Bannerman. Moreover the government is at the mercy of accidents and an unexpected catastrophe and cannot conduct business with credit to themselves or advantage to the country. With the original majority of 40, reduced by the desertion of the Parnellites and losses by elections, the government has performed an amount of legislative work which exacted a reluctant eulogy from Mr. Chamberlain. Its successor may be more cautious, but will neither be so bold nor so truthful."

The Times says that Lord Rosebery resigned on Saturday evening. "We understand that absolute agreement prevailed in the cabinet council on Saturday as to the resignation. There was a consensus of opinion that Mr. Campbell-Bannerman had been insulted and that his retirement from office must mean the breaking up of the cabinet."

The Standard (Conservative) says: "The government has been trading upon fraudulent representations from the beginning and probably Sir Wm. Vernon Harcourt is not sorry that the ignoble farce in which he played a leading part has been hissed off the stage. We have reason to believe that the Duke of Devonshire, Chamberlain, Sir Henry James and Lord Lansdowne have been invited to join the cabinet. The return of Mr. Gladstone is awaited by the Liberals with the greatest interest. There is no prospect that he will take a personal part in the campaign, but the impression prevails in Liberal quarters that he will issue a manifesto in support of the Liberal programme. The idea prevails that the Unionist government will endeavor to arrange a compromise on the Irish land bill in order to pass it before the general elections. There will undoubtedly be some settlement of the Irish land question and it will be one of the first measures of the new government, but it is probable they will prefer to introduce their own measure in a new parliament."

Most of the members left when the House went into committee. Numerous questions were asked regarding the agreement with Russia on the Behring sea question, and the complaints received from the government of the Dominion of Canada on the same subject. The parliamentary secretary of the foreign office, Sir Edward Gray, replying, said satisfactory assurance had been given Canada on the points raised on behalf of the Dominion. The seal fisheries bill then passed its third reading. Dr. Charles Tanner, member for the middle division of Cork, anti-Parnellite, raised a disturbance by exclaiming that he did not see why the fisheries bill should be given precedence over the Irish land bill. The House then adjourned.

The Marquis of Salisbury conferred this morning with the Right Hon. A. J. Balfour, Conservative leader of the house of commons, the Duke of Devonshire, the Unionist leader in the house of lords, and the Rt. Hon. Jos. Chamberlain, Unionist leader in the house of commons, at his house in London. The best informed speculations regarding the cabinet agree in the belief that Lord Salisbury will accept the task of forming a cabinet and the new ministry will be composed of representatives of both sections of the Unionist party.

In the house of commons to-day there was a most animated scene and outside the houses of parliament large crowds of people gathered eagerly discussing the situation. The speaker, Mr. Wm. Court Gully, took the chair at 3 p.m. Soon afterwards the secretary of state for war, Mr. Campbell-Bannerman, entered the house amid prolonged Liberal cheers. Mr. Balfour followed and was greeted with vigorous cheers from his supporters. At 3:30 p.m. the chancellor of the exchequer, Sir William Vernon Harcourt, entered the house and the Liberals rose in a body and cheered him to the echo. The supporters of Mr. Chamberlain made a similar demonstration when the Unionist leader entered. Sir William Vernon Harcourt said: "It is my duty to make the announcement to the house that the division on Friday last was a vote of censure on the secretary of war, than whom never a more able, respected or more popular minister ever held office. The government, of course, associated themselves with their colleagues, and feeling unable to pass the votes for supply resigned and their resignation had been accepted. Under ordinary circumstances it would be incumbent to move an adjournment, but the seal fisheries bill must be passed before July 1. When it has passed its third reading, the government will move the adjournment of the house."

The chancellor of the exchequer then said that his supporters acknowledged the consideration shown to the government by their opponents. Tears were in the eyes of Sir William when he uttered the last words. Mr. Balfour criticised the conduct of the government. He said he thought the constitutional manner of the proceeding would have been to advise the Queen to dissolve parliament instead of throwing the burden of continuing the government on the opposition. At 3:43 the house went into committee on the seal fisheries bill.

It is officially announced that the Marquis of Salisbury has accepted the task of forming a new cabinet.

Land Registry Act.

In the Matter of the Application of Peter Steele for a Certificate of Indefeasible Title to the following portions of Sections XXXI and XXXII., Esquimalt District, viz.:

All that piece or parcel of land forming a portion of Section XXXII., Esquimalt District, together known as Lots 20 and 21, according to a survey and plan made by R. Homfray, C. E., and more particularly described as follows: To wit: Commencing at the N. E. corner of said section, thence running westerly along the northern boundary of said section 300 links, thence south 475 links, thence easterly to the eastern boundary of said section, 351 links; thence northward along the said boundary to the point of beginning, 562 links.

Also that piece or parcel of land known as Buckley's Orchard, and forming a portion of Section XXXI. Esquimalt District, more particularly described as follows: To wit: Commencing at a point on the northern boundary of the said section 14 feet six inches distant from the N. E. corner of before mentioned Section XXXII., thence running easterly along the said boundary 400 feet, thence southerly and parallel to the eastern boundary of the first above described piece of land 325 feet, thence at right angles west 350 feet, thence north to the point of beginning, 198 feet.

Also all that piece or parcel of land forming another portion of Section XXXI., Esquimalt District, bounded as follows, viz.: On the west by the last described piece of land known as Buckley's Orchard, on the south by a line drawn from the [illegible] piece to the Craigflower road and parallel to the northern boundary of the said Section XXXI., to the eastward by the Craigflower road, and to the northward by the northern boundary of said Section XXXI.

NOTICE is hereby given that a certificate of indefeasible title to the above lands will be issued to Peter Steele on the 30th day of September, 1895, unless in the meantime a valid objection thereto be made to me in writing by a person claiming an estate or interest therein or any part thereof.

THE HAWAIIAN ISLANDS.

Cable Communication the Vital Feature of the Government's Policy.

Reported Filibustering Exedition of 1000 Strong Ready to Leave 'Frisco.

Honolulu, June 16, via San Francisco. —President Dole, in his address to the first legislature of the Hawaiian republic said: "One of the matters to which I would especially direct your attention is cable communication with the outer world. Until such communication is secured, Hawaii mus remain isolated. To do everything within our power to establish such communication is and must continue to be one of the items of the Hawaiian policy until accomplished. But two bills have been introduced in the legislature so far—the new land law and the supplementary appropriation bills, one item of which is for the settlement of Princess Kaiulani. She is to receive $4,000 a year from the government, commencing April 1st last. This money will be paid as long as she does not meddle in politics.

There is a well defined rumor afloat to the effect that the ex-Queen will be pardoned at an early date. Her health continues excellent. The government has declined to liberate a number of rebel prisoners on July 4th. This fact will be disappointing to several who expected pardon, Major Seward among them.

San Francisco, June 24.—For several weeks among the colony of Hawaiian exiles here small groups have been in earnest consultation. Yesterday Hawaiian Consul Wilder reported the organization of a filibustering expedition to carry 1,000 picked men and a large supply of arms and ammunition to Hawaii. Wilder is skeptical regarding the real strength of the expedition, but admits that the exiles here are desperate men and have strong financial backing.

COWICHAN INDIANS.

A letter from Quamichan presents the case of the Cowichan Indians in regard to fishing rights, as set forth privately and at the late meeting of the Indians. They claim that they have always had the right to take fish in any way and at any time in all the waters of British Columbia, and they want to preserve that right. They say they did not protest against the regulations previously because they did not understand their true intent. The fish, they say, are their property by natural right and the government regulations depriving them of their right are unjust. They say they do not destroy fish, but catch only what they use as food. On the other hand, white people do destroy fish therefore the regulations should apply only to them. The Indians say: "We take fish for our daily use, to have a living, and we make use of all the fish we take. The white population take fish mostly for pleasure's sake, and usually destroy the small fish by throwing them away. Our weirs are built in such a way that none but large fish are caught. Now we are aware of the object of what we claim to be unjust regulations we strongly protest, and we are decided to keep hold of our rights were we to suffer imprisonment."

They claim the same right to the game as to the fish, as fish and game were the natural food of their forefathers and of themselves in former days. The Indians further say: "The government in taking our lands promised to protect us and look after us. We have on that account always been law-abiding. They have, however, more favored the white people so far that now they are allowed to take the food from our mouths."

Ottawa News.

Mr. Fletcher, entomologist at the experimental farm, left for British Columbia on Saturday to deliver a series of addresses.

The reigning sensation is the announcement that the Patrons of Industry who run a binder twine factory at Brantford are seeking to induce the government to join them in a combine to put up prices.

It was reported on Saturday that the Hudson Bay railway promoters have submitted new proposals to the government re aid to their road. They are willing to take less than $10,000 a mile rather than get nothing.

The railway committee of the privy council on Saturday decided that it has no jurisdiction to compel a railway company to pay the wages of its employes. It is recommended that applicants bring the matter before parliament.

The criminal code committee which met to-day amended that clause which provided for Charlton's Sunday observance bill by allowing the distribution of Sunday newspapers, but not permitting their sale. The striking out of the word "distribution" in the bill was an amendment of Corbould's, New Westminster, which will help to permit the publication of Sunday newspapers in Vancouver and Victoria.

ACROSS IN THE OLD COUNTRY

Prince of Wales Shocks Fashion by Wearing a White Pot Hat at the Races.

The Shasda Not Impressed With British Beauty—Society Gossip.

London, June 22.—This has been the gayest week of the season, mainly due, however, to the Ascot race meeting and the balls given by the Marchioness of Salisbury and others. After a little rain in the earlier part of the week the weather seems to promise a number of fine, though hot days, and in consequence every person who can do so is enjoying himself or herself to the utmost. Socially, the Ascot meeting just ended has been the best on record. Royalty and the admirers of royalty, to say nothing of those who are fond of good racing, turned out in almost strongest possible force, but the ground was so hard that the owners of horses were not willing to risk injuring them, consequently the fields were the smallest in years. But for the display of toilettes the weather could not have been surpassed. On Tuesday and Thursday, the principal days, the weather was bright and pleasant. White was the color predominating in the fashionable throng, while hats of enormous size, covered with long stemmed flowers, made the royal enclosure resemble a flower garden. The enclosure, in addition, was so crowded that walking about was almost an impossibility for a lady. The members of the royal family never left their boxes except for lunch, and so the majority of the people pressed in the enclosure had very little satisfaction so far as mingling with royalty was concerned. All the smartest men with reputations as dressers to uphold wore black frock coats and silk hats with soft fronted-shirts and small bow ties.

The Prince of Wales on Thursday shocked the leaders of fashion by appearing in a white "stovepipe" hat. He had evidently persuaded Earl Cadogan, who was included in the Prince of Wales' house party, to follow his example. There was much speculation as to whether the Prince of Wales' lead will have any effect upon the fashion, but it is not likely, as in spite of all that has been said to the contrary on the subject, the Prince of Wales does not lead the fashions. There were fewer house parties than usual at Ascot, the majority of those present taking trains daily from Waterloo railway station, where thousands had assembled to witness the arrival and departure of the fashionable crowds.

In spite of the many entries no American horse appeared at Ascot. Mr. R. Croker of New York took house at Ascot for a week and did things in style. He was most correctly dressed in a long frock coat, dark striped trousers, patent leather shoes and a dazzling silk hat. Mr. Croker also carried a pair of racing glasses slung across his body from the shoulder. Mrs. Croker, who accompanied him, looked handsome and was one of the best dressed ladies there.

The Afghan prince who is now visiting England, Nazrulla Khan, was present at Ascot on cup day, and was sulky as usual. He wore a heavy fur coat, in spite of the fact that the mercury was at 80 degrees. The Ameer of Afghanistan has resolved to allow his hopeful son to stay in England until the end of August, and it is an open secret that this sudden resolution of the Ameer greatly perturbs the royal family. But he will probably be shunted off to the continent. The Queen has arrived at Windsor Castle from Balmoral, and it is stated that the dinner which she is to give to Nazrulla Khan will be a great affair. Her Majesty will not undergo the fatigue of giving a garden party at Buckingham Palace this season, as was hoped, but will lend the grounds to the Prince and Princess of Wales, who find the grounds of Marlborough House too small for such a purpose.

The eloquent set of resolutions drawn up by Col. Clayton McMichael, proprietor of the Philadelphia North American, on the completion of her maiden trip across the Atlantic of the new American liner St. Louis, and which the obliging British ambassador at Washington, Sir Julian Pauncefote, unsuspectingly signed, has landed that diplomatist in fresh trouble. The Cunard and White Star line people are furious at the wording of the resolutions, which declared that the St. Louis had under American auspices inaugurated a new era in the history of ocean traffic, and brought their influence to bear upon certain members of parliament, with the result that the matter was brought before the house of commons as cabled to the Associated Press. But the explanation furnished by the parliamentary secretary for foreign affairs, Sir Edward Gray, that the British ambassador did not sign the resolutions in his official capacity, was not satisfactory to the English ship owners. They said that Sir Julian should have remembered that an ambassador has no private capacity, and the statement will be used to advertise the American line to the detriment of the British lines, which they claim have invariably proved their superiority. The comments in the English newspapers on the subject are altogether of a nature calculated to render Sir Julian Pauncefote unhappy. For instance one newspaper says: "English diplomats are as clay in the hands of the sharp Yankee." The paper referred to then recalls the Sackville-West incident, and adds, "Sir Julian Pauncefote is now cleverly caught in thoroughly American fashion." In an interview with Col. Clayton McMichael, the latter said: "I certainly made the resolutions as strongly American as I could. Probably Sir Julian Pauncefote did not read them carefully. He was asked to sign them as a distinguished passenger and being an agreeable gentleman he could not well refuse. The resolutions were circulated at dinner time and no one showed any objection to signing them."

Sir Julian Pauncefote, being asked by a representative of the Associated Press if he wished to make a statement on the subject, said he had nothing further to add to the explanation furnished by Sir Edward Gray in the House of Commons.

The International Railway congress holds its session on Wednesday next, in the Imperial Institute, and will be opened by the Prince of Wales. It is the first gathering of the kind held in the country and promises to be a great success. The home railway companies are offering every facility to the foreign delegates to see the railway works in Great Britain, and out of over 20,000 miles of railway operated in the United Kingdom, 19,000 will be directly represented in the congress. No less than 275 railway undertakings will be represented with a mileage of something like 125,000 miles, and the delegates will include representatives from 50 different countries. A subject of intense interest will be reported upon, viz., light railways and their contributive traffic, and what relaxations can be made by government in its requirements for construction and working without risking the public safety. At present it is stated that the restrictions of the board of trade are so great that light railways are practically under a prohibitive law. In the first section Mr. Hunt, chief engineer of the Lancashire and Yorkshire railway, will open the question of strengthening permanent ways to allow an increase of the speed of trains. Sir Henry Lambert, general manager of the Great Western railway, and Mr. Harrison, general secretary, will deal with the organization of central administration and out-door staffs and the systems of other countries. Mr. Turner, general manager of the Midland railway, will report on the best arrangements for handling merchandise and the rolling stock of express trains. Mr. Thompson, signal engineer of the London and Northwestern railway, will report on signals. The congress will sit until July 9.

According to English society papers the Astors own $3,000,000 worth of lace, the Vanderbilts $4,000,000 worth, while the Princess of Wales only possesses, according to the estimate of the papers, $250,000 worth, and the Pope, society papers claim, has only $75,000 worth.

The Realm, Lady Colin Campbell's paper, says Lady Randolph Churchill (formerly Miss Jenny Jerome of New York), widow of the late Lord Randolph Churchill, is now seen in Paris in the smartest cycling costume of mourning. She wears a black alpaca suit, edged with black leather, and knickerbockers, concealed by short skirts, and a black straw hat.

The arrangements for the marriage of the Duke of Aosta, nephew of the King of Italy, to the Princess Helene of Orleans, which is to take place Tuesday next, are extending. Four hotels in addition to the Bristol, occupied by the Countess of Paris, have been engaged for the guests. The wedding breakfast is to be given at Orleans House, Twickenham, but there will be several dinner parties at the Bristol Hotel. The Prince of Naples, the Duke of Aumale, the Infanta Marie Louise of Spain, the Duchess of Monpensier and the Prince and Princess Henry of Battenberg, representing the Queen, are the most important guests, although it is possible that the Prince and Princess of Wales may also be present. Princess Helene's bridal veil is a splendid specimen of Chantilly lace fourteen feet long. It has a broad border enriched with a floral pattern which diminishes in elaboration as it reaches the head. Two branches spring from the train, forming in the middle a sort of medallion enclosing the arms of the bridegroom, surmounted by the cross of Savoy and the arms of France with a fleur de lis. The crown of the Princess of Savoy stands above the two escutcheons.

Henley regatta gains in interest. The demand for house boats was never so great. One hundred and seventy guineas was given for one boat for a week. Five guineas has been charged for the rent of a small bedroom.

According to Lord Dunraven's plans Valkyrie III will not do any racing on the Clyde before starting for the United States, about July 15. Both the Prince of Wales, owner of the Britannia, and Mr. A. R. Walker, owner of the Ailsa, promised Lord Dunraven any number of trial races, and it is believed possible that he may accept these offers in preference to entering the regular races. The reason for this is not a desire for secrecy, but to prevent the yacht from being unnecessarily strained and generally knocked about as she would be in regular racing. The idea is now that if during the trials at the Valkyrie III carries away or splits her sails a private signal will be hoisted and both yachts will stop until the damage is repaired. Lord Dunraven is afraid of the tremendous spars of the Valkyrie, which dwarf anything yet seen here. But her designer assures him that everything is all right.

Messrs. Croker and Dwyer seem to be discouraged with their experience here. They say they do not know when they will race again. Simms, the Croker-Dwyer colored jockey, has been amusing himself at Newmarket. On Monday he wagered that he would drive a trotter from Newmarket to Cambridge and return within an hour. Simms started in a sulky and made Cambridge in time, but in returning, just as he reached Newmarket, the horse dropped dead.

The drought is beginning to be serious to the towns as well as to the farmers. Birmingham, Coventry and many other places have placed severe restrictions on the use of water, and the flushing of sewers has also been stopped. At Stratford-on-Avon the river is quite dry below Mill Bridge and the people are walking along the bed. Much distress prevails among the live stock in Sussex.

Nazrulla Khan has created a small sensation by his comments on English persons in society. The Shasda is not at all impressed by the beauty of English women. He says the young ones are altogether too thin and their figures constitute an insuperable defect, while those who conform more to his idea of plumpness are too old for his liking. The Shasda, as formerly noted, does not approve of the English fashion of decollette dressing. The exhibition of feminine loveliness he has seen here caused a shock to his most cherished views of the sex.

An amusing incident related by Mr. Henry Labouchere illustrates the unlooked for character of the crisis in parliament. Mr. Labouchere and Sir Wm. Harcourt met on the terrace of the house and Sir William said jokingly to Mr. Labouchere: "How dull the day has been without a crisis. How is it you have not provided one?" Mr. Labouchere replied that he did not know how to get up a crisis on the army estimates, when a bell rang, announcing that a division had been challenged. They went in together, and that division has been followed by the most serious crisis that this government has yet had to face.

Labouchere says: "A defeat of this latitude would have been easily surmounted had not the affairs of the government got into such a bad way all round of late. It certainly much hastens, if it does not instantly precipitate, a general election."

Tired but Sleepless

Is a condition which gradually wears away the strength. Let the blood be purified and enriched by Hood's Sarsaparilla and this condition will cease.

"For two or three years I was subject to poor spells. I always felt tired, could not sleep at night and the little I could eat did not do me any good. I read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and decided to try it. Before I had finished two bottles I began to feel better and in a short time I felt all right and had gained 21 pounds in weight. I am stronger and healthier than I have ever been in my life." JOHN W. COUGHLIN, Wallaceburg, Ontario.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

WHO IS RESPONSIBLE?

To the Editor:—Dr. Lang, under a nom de plume, asks who is responsible? For what? For Dr. Lang being so well known or for being so badly in need of a bath? I think the Jubilee Hospital management were instrumental in bringing his name before the public. As to the bath, we'll let the public be the judge. There are a number of well known gentlemen practicing medicine in this city for a number of years who are at the head of their profession and whom we all feel proud to own as citizens. I have yet to know that one of them ever asked the board of health, health officer, or sanitary inspector, to furnish him with disinfectants for use in his private practice, or to ask the city to furnish valets. I claim and challenge comparison, that the sanitary office is cleaner and better looked after than the doctor's office. If one of the police officers wishes to act as valet to Dr. Lang or any person else it is nothing to me; it is a matter for the police commissioners. Now a few words of advice to Dr. Lang. If you are sincere in your sanitary precautions, I would respectfully request and in fact insist upon you following out the rules laid down by the medical profession, namely, to provide yourself with a rubber suit while treating the patient, to use due care and thoroughly disinfect yourself before leaving the house. I think the board of health will agree with me that it would be a wiser course than walking through the crowded streets of our city to the sanitary office to get free attendance and disinfectants, if exposed, as the wind will have blown the infection to the four points of the compass before reaching the office. In conclusion I would inform the writer in the morning paper that civility costs nothing, and that in his walk through life he will get along much better by never forgetting that nature intended him for a gentleman.

IN THE SPORTING WORLD.

LACROSSE.
NANAIMO WINS.

There was a fair attendance at Caledonia Park on Saturday afternoon to witness the intermediate championship lacrosse match between the Nanaimos and the Capitals of this city. The game was a surprise to spectators and players, too, for that matter. The Nanaimo men from the start played a defensive game, while their opponents were aggressive, so much so that at times the defence field were endeavoring to score, and when the ball went up near their own home they were not in position to defend it. The Capitals had more of the ball and showed more ability in handling their sticks, but were out-generalled, the Nanaimos noticing their weakness and being quick to take advantage of it. The game was a very gentlemanly one throughout, and the spectators voted it good lacrosse; such play as will tend to keep up the popularity of the national game. C. L. Cullin performed the duties of referee, while J. G. Brown and F. Hemer acted as umpires. The Nanaimo team protested against Frank and "Pat" Smith and Snider on the ground that they were seniors, having played with the Triangles in the last senior championship match. This protest will hardly be entertained, as it was understood at the time of their playing that such action was not to affect their standing.

In the first game the Capitals secured the rubber and made a lively attack on the visitors' flags. Medill, Nanaimo's goal keeper, defended like a Trojan throughout the match, doing more than any man on his side to prevent the Capitals from securing a victory. Newcombe and Fitzgerald of the Nanaimo defence also played good lacrosse, time and again relieving the pressure at critical times. Campbell finally succeeded in scoring for the Capitals after some clever work, in which he was assisted by Bland, Smith, Miller and Schnoter.

The second game made the Capitals realize that they had no mean opponents to trifle with. From centre Bell carried the ball down field, passing to Williams, who promptly scored. Time, 1 minute.

The third game was a repetition of the second in result, though the play was of longer duration. W. Medill secured the rubber and shot it between the flags after 3½ minutes' play.

The fourth game was an extremely lively one. To enumerate the good plays made would be impossible. The Capitals had the most of the ball, Snider showing up well in this game, while Miller and Smith made several ineffectual attempts to score. Finlaison brought the sphere down from centre, passed to Bland, who tipped to F. Smith, who succeeded in doing the needful. Time, 10½ minutes.

The fifth game proved a win for the visitors after a hard struggle. In this game they were outplayed in the centre field, Cooley, Bland and Campbell doing great work for the Capitals, but the Coal City boys bunched in front of the flags, and after a long siege succeeded in sending the ball up to the ever ready Williams. For the Capitals there were only two men on the defence field. Smith tried to stop the ball but failed. Williams amid wild applause scored again. During the progress of this game a goal was claimed by the Capitals, but Mr. Hemer did not see it.

The sixth game opened with Mr. Norris acting as umpire in place of Mr. Hemer, retired. The Capitals played with a determined air. Bland, who played a great game throughout, carried the ball down on Nanaimo's home and passing to F. Smith, that player again scored for the Capitals. Time, 2 minutes.

After 10 minutes lively play time was called. The score standing three to three, after the orthodox rest play was resumed. Several delays occurred. McMillan of Nanaimo dropping just a second or so before Miller for the Capitals scored a goal, which of course was not allowed. Then D. Sinclair got a blow that crippled him for a time. The play of the fifth game was repeated. A number of the Capitals' home men peppered away at the flags, but Medill was always in the way. Nanaimo's point player finally sent the ball up field, and several attempts were made to score, which Norman prevented. It was passed to Williams, who by a neat shot again scored for the visitors. Time, 11¼ minutes.

GYMKHANA.
THE GYMKHANA.

A large proportion of the wealth and beauty of Victoria was assembled in force at Stanley Park on Saturday afternoon to witness the gymkhana races under the distinguished patronage of Lieut.-Governor Dewdney and Rear-Admiral Stephenson. It was one continuous round of laughter from the start of the first event until the affair was over. All of the races were run off according to programme and were keenly contested. Some excellent horsemanship was displayed during the day and many hairbreadth escapes from serious injury were to be noted. A majority of the races on the programme were intended to be of an amusing character, and they succeeded admirably in their purpose.

The first event was the "Turks Head" competition, competitors to gallop past hanging ring, Turk's head and bladder—ring must be taken, Turk's head cut off and bladder thrust off. Messrs. Kirk, Ward and Muntz distinguished themselves in this event, which afforded an opportunity to display clever horsemanship.

Next on the programme was the "bare back scurry race," 200 yards. Start dismounted at fall of flag, don shirt, mount over one hurdle, round post, leaving it on right hand and home over hurdle. Captain Perry, 1st; F. Ward, 2nd. This was followed by the "cigar and umbrella race." Prize given by Admiral Stephenson to lady who threads needle of winner. Start unsaddled, at fall of flag saddle up, open umbrella, mount, ride over hurdle to a point, take a cigar, light it, ride to a lady who will thread needle, home over hurdle, cigar to be alight, umbrella opened and needle threaded. Race one-half mile. This simply convulsed those present, and is absolutely indescribable. F. Ward, out of a field of 18, won. Miss Harvey threaded Mr. Ward's needle.

The 4th event was the Victoria Cross race, ¼ mile. Start dismounted at fall of flag, saddle up, ride over hurdle to point where dummies are placed, dismount, pick up a dummy, ride home over hurdle with dummy. Firing party was stationed twenty yards beyond dummies. This was a most interesting race and was won by Lieut. Gordon, R. E.

Then came the egg race, ¼ mile. Start 20 yards behind horses, horses to be held, mount, ride over hurdle to point where saddle is placed, saddle up, mount, ride to point where eggs are placed, dismount, pick up egg, mount and finish, egg to be unbroken, egg to be carried any way, but no special sling allowed. G. Ward finished first, with F. Ward second.

A tug-of-war on horseback followed between teams picked by two members of the committee on the course before the events, both teams to ride away from the centre. It proved, without doubt, the funniest thing on the programme. The team captained by Lieut. Stanley won. Ward won the bareback hurdle race which followed. Lieutenant Gordon was victorious in the bending race. The pony flat race, open to men of the royal navy, afforded lots of amusement and was won by Smith, a bluejacket of the Royal Arthur, on Mr. Galpin's Satan. The day's sport was brought to a close by a tug-of-war between teams of Her Majesty's ships, in which the marines of the Royal Arthur, who had as their opponents a team from the Wild Swan, were victorious.

The band of the Royal Arthur was present and rendered a choice programme of music.

CRICKET.
SATURDAY'S MATCHES.

At Beacon Hill on Saturday a team from the Victoria Cricket Club defeated a Nanaimo team by 102 to 52.

The Albions defeated the Battalion Club team by 40 to 24. The Albions had made 120 in their second innings when time was called.

—Some people are constantly troubled with pimples and boils, especially about the face and neck. The best remedy is a thorough course of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which expels all humors through the proper channels, and so makes the skin become soft, healthy, and fair.

"Witness," said a lawyer in the police court, the other day, "you speak of Mr. Smith being well off, is he worth $5,000?"

"No, sah."

"Two thousand?"

"No, sah; he ain't worf twenty-five cents."

"Then how is he well off?"

"Got a wife who is a washerwoman, sah, and s'ports de hull fam'ly, sah."

Impure blood is the cause of boils, pimples and other eruptions. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood and cures these troubles.

Little Jennie—No, ma'am. There are just five of us, and they wouldn't like to break the set.

Flossie was watching the masons lay bricks, and the process interested her greatly. "Oh, mamma," she exclaimed, as she saw the men putting on mortar, "they're buttering bricks, ain't they?"

Miriam asked her mother the meaning of "deducted" and received for reply "taken away." The next morning she came in with a rueful face and said, "Mamma, the cat has deducted one of our kittens."

THE JUDICIAL COMMITTEE.

For some time there has been under discussion a proposal that judicial representatives of the colonies should be added to the judicial committee of the privy council. A few weeks ago the discussion resulted in a bill introduced by Lord Rosebery which provides, to quote the premier's own explanation, "that if any persons who have held judicial office in the supreme courts of the Dominion of Canada or the Australasian or South African colonies, as set forth in the schedule, should be sworn within certain limited numbers to the Privy Council, they shall be members of the judicial committee of the Privy Council. At present if a colonial judge were, by any accident, sworn on the Privy Council, he could not become a member of the judicial committee except under the limitations imposed by the act of William IV—two members with two very small salaries. Our proposal then is that, without making any financial provision for the maintenance of these judicial members, we should give facilities to the great self-governing colonies, if it be practical from this point of view, to have members of their supreme courts admitted as members of this judicial tribunal." We do not know that there was any great amount of utility underlying the idea in the first place, but if there was any it could hardly be developed by Lord Rosebery's scheme. One objection has been brought by the colonial party in the house of commons, namely that no provision is made for the remuneration of colonial judges who might be placed on the judicial committee. The secretary of the colonial party, Mr. Hogan, has given notice that he will move to correct this defect by appropriating annually the amount of £3000 for the expenses of colonial judges attending the sittings of the committee. A more serious defect in Lord Rosebery's bill is thus pointed out by the writer on colonial subjects in the London Times: "The object of the measure is to increase the dignity and efficiency of the judicial committee, and to add to the confidence felt throughout the empire in its decisions. The additions to its ranks of one or more retired judges from the colonial bench could only have a contrary effect. Acting judges of first rank in the colonies would have no confidence in the decision given on appeal upon their judgments by colleagues whom age or other disqualification had previously forced into a position inferior to their own. None but the very best legal ability of the colonies could satisfy their requirements, and it is from every point of view desirable that nothing should be abated in this demand. A position on the judicial committee of the Privy Council should be the highest prize to which a colonial judge can aspire. The best legal opinion in the colonies appears to be that, while it is essential, if the judicial committee is to remain the ultimate court of appeal, to have some representative of the colonies in its ranks, the proposed enlargement will only serve its purpose on the condition that any colonial judge appointed shall have the status of a Lord of Appeal in Ordinary, and be in every respect the equal of his colleague on the English bench. Anything less than this would, it is thought, cause irritation and distrust, and if the time has not yet come for making the reform in earnest it would be better to make no present change." This reflects with accuracy Canadian opinion at least. To call retired judges of our supreme court to act as members of the judicial committee would be a mockery and a farce.

For Puget Sound Points.

Steamer Sehome, Captain C. E. Clancey, master, will leave here every morning, excepting Sundays, at 9 o'clock for Port Townsend and Seattle, and returning will leave Seattle at 11:30 p.m. The round trip tickets are good to return on the steamer City of Kingston. Tickets at Northern Pacific railway office, Government street.

JAPAN AND COREA.

The Hermit Kingdom Likely to Repudiate Its Pledges.

Yokohama, June 7.—Although no international complications are apprehended on Formosa's account, the latest Corean development is justly regarded with great anxiety. Count Iouiye, Japanese representative at Seoul, has been called ostensibly to take part in a consultation as to the future policy of Japan, but it is really believed to discuss the question of abandoning entirely all attempts to introduce social and political reforms into the Corean monarchy. Until a few weeks ago the dominating influence of Japan was easily maintained, but since the announcement that Japan had acceded to the recent demand of Russia and her allies the Coreans have convinced themselves that Russia alone is to be feared and courted and that they may safely repudiate their pledges to the island empire. The ministry of Kim Hong, which rules under Inouyie, was overthrown on June 1st. A new cabinet was formed, the leading members of which are avowedly opposed to the adoption of the Japanese methods of reform.

London, June 24.—A dispatch to the Times from Kobe says the Japanese government are determined not to permit any alterations of their policy. A joint committee of the opposition parties has been dissolved and their meetings prohibited. Despite these measures a reconstruction of the cabinet is probable. Count Inouye has returned to Japan and the Corean question is being earnestly discussed.

MASLEN ESTATE.

Application for the Appointment of a Co-trustee.

Mrs. J. E. Smith vs. Mrs. Mary Maslen, executrix of the Maslen estate. This was an action which came before the Hon. Mr. Justice Crease this morning in the supreme court for the administration of the Maslen estate for an account of the estate and in the alternative for the appointment of a new trustee. Mr. S. Perry Mills, for the plaintiff, in opening the case said, as it was a question between mother and daughter, it was advisable, if possible, to settle this matter by the appointment of some fit and proper person as trustee without putting the parties in the witness box, which would only tend to increase the ill-feeling. The will had been prepared by a non-professional man. Mr. E. E. Wootten claimed for his client that he would stand on his legal rights. She had carried out the trusts of the will so far as able, and she must have something to live upon. The matter had been taken out of Mr. Day's hands because she could not afford to pay the expense, 5 per cent. commission on collections. This had been done without his advice, but his client would be willing to have Mr. Day as a co-trustee with her. Mr. Mills had already expressed his approval of Mr. Day as a trustee. Mr. Mills was quite willing to accept Mr. Day as a co-trustee with Mrs. Maslen, as he did not consider his client's interests were safe with Mrs. Maslen's management as sole trustee. After some evidence was given as to the income of the estate his lordship made an order that Mr. R. S. Day be appointed as co-trustee, his charges not to exceed five per cent. commission and vesting the estate in the name of the two trustees. An order was also made for Mrs. Maslen to bring in and pass her opinions as executrix, and that the costs of the action up to date, agreed at $100, be paid to Mr. Mills.

Brief Locals.

—A query by wire to the Times' Seattle correspondent brings the news that Harry Good has not yet been sentenced. The reason for the delay is not stated.

—Three Victorians, who started for Otter Point in Peterboro canoes several days ago, arrived home yesterday. One of the party got faint-hearted and footed it home from Beachy Bay. It was a rather daring trip.

—The steamship Empress of Japan will sail for the Orient this evening. She will arrive off the outer wharf abut 6.45 and either the Maude or the Constance will act as tender leaving the Kingston's wharf. She will receive six Chinese and the following cabin passengers here: G. A. Raggi, Paul Sieppel and P. de Lariel of San Francisco and C. W. Collier of New York.

—Somewhere on the American side on the American natal day a colored gentleman known in pugilistic circles as Young Jackson, and Jack Barnard, will don the gloves and battle for fistic supremacy. Both men live here, and the colored man has somewhat of an athletic reputation while Barnard has been an instructor in coast cities. The colored man has considerable advantage in weight and reach but the white man is said to be cleverer. The details have been quietly arranged in the past week and the sports who like a boxing match are becoming daily more interested.

—Norman R. Smith, Port Angeles, is in the city for the purpose of arranging for the visit to that city on July 4th of the local yachts that are not going to the Sound. He came over on the yacht [illegible] a rough, wet passage of 5 hours and 10 minutes. Port Angeles will, as usual, have a good Fourth of July celebration, and the steamer Islander is going to make three round trips from here. As in past years, the 50 cent excursion will draw a big crowd. The board of trade is going to offer a fine cup for the regatta and the Port Angeles yachtsmen are going to look after the visiting yachtsmen during the celebration. Mr. Smith goes home to-morrow.

THEY REMEMBERED THE DEAD

The Knights of Pythias remembered their dead yesterday. They marched to Ross Bay cemetery, and decked their graves with flowers, repeating over the grassy mounds and by the stones which mark them words of brotherly love. Memories of the past were revived by orations extolling the good qualities of the departed. The speeches all breathed a spirit of hope for those who have gone to that great lodge room for their final degree. It was a beautiful ceremony that told of unforgotten friendships and unbroken pledges. The Knights of Pythias to the number of 100 left Castle Hall at 1:30 under the marshalship of Stroud L. Redgrave. Two carriages filled to overflowing led the way, Victoria, Sunset and Far West lodges following in the order named. The chancellor commanders, grand lodge officers and past supreme representatives marched in the rear. The cemetery was reached shortly before three o'clock and Frank LeRoy, chancellor commander of Far West lodge, made the opening address. He said:

"Another year with its joys and sorrows, another assemblage in the resting place of our departed brethren, another milestone in the journey through life, marks our meeting on this Sabbath afternoon. Year after year the links in the chain of brotherly love are broken by the dread messenger. We follow their mortal remains to the silent tomb, we leave them in the dust, and places that knew them now know them no more. A mournful remembrance is all that is left of their many virtues, teaching lessons of love and a higher life beyond the grave. Around us are grassy mounds, covered with beautiful flowers, hallowed spots, wherein lie the silent forms of those we loved best on earth. Fathers and mothers, sisters and brothers, wives and children sleep peacefully, side by side, in those narrow beds. The cold earth hides them from sight, but in that glorious home beyond the skies they stand glorified, awaiting our advent to a higher destiny than this world can ever know. Life at its best is brief. Step by step we journey towards that bourne where cares and tribulations will bring a golden harvest. The world is full of farewells to the dying and mourning for the dead. As we place our offerings of flowers on the graves of the departed, let us again vow that the noble actions and kind words of our deceased brethren will every remain fresh in memory's storehouse, and let all pray that the Supreme Ruler of the Universe may grant that on that fairer shore we will be permitted to meet our loved ones and enjoy forever the blessings of life eternal.

Oft by the graves of those we love,
Our sorrows find release;
In precious promise from above,
In Me ye shall have peace.

Then the graves were decorated and short addresses made by the sides of each as follows: Grave of Richard Hunter, oration by J. M. Hughes; J. Engelhart, by E. Pferdner; Frederick Randolph, by E. Dickerson; William Byers, by J. L. Smith; William Slater, by W. S. Stamer; D. F. and J. F. Fee, by M. J. Conlin; Frank Campbell, by E. P. Nathan; J. B. Carmichael, by W. J. Dwyer; Peter Wilson, by J. Cameron; George Frye, by H. F. W. Behnsen; M. Hooper, by F. Hines and A. A. Green by G. K. Gilbert.

"Brothers and Friends:—Our sad yet sweet duty is complete. We return to the busy world conscious that night shall melt into noon and the mystery shall be clothed in glory. In other lands rest the remains of Brothers T. Barry, F. Ousterhout, A. Barton and J. Jones. Brother Arthur Williams sleeps beneath the waves. The hand of death has been laid heavily on our members during the past year. Thirteen graves in this cemetery, four buried by brother Knights in foreign lands, and one in the ocean before us, marks the ravages of the grim reaper since the organization of our order in this city. We can do no more for the departed. Our duty now is to the living. When friends assemble around our deathbeds what a consolation it will be to know that we made every effort to assist the weak and unwary. It is our mission on earth to place confidence in mankind. Remember, brothers, that every man, no matter how high or low his station in life may be, is cast in the same mould. Let us rise above all human prejudices. Here, among the resting places of the dead, all are alike, unconscious. The hand that greeted the highest in the land and is still as the hand that folded a tattered coat over shivering limbs. Who cares when we are dead and gone whether we ever lived? Only those who can realize the many trials and tribulations we suffered to aid them in the hour of distress. When we die the world will ask the value of property left behind, an angel will bend over our beds and ask what good deeds we have sent before. There are many hearts seeking solace which we [illegible] world to find friends as faithful in the days of adversity as in the time of prosperity. The Supreme Ruler deals with us as with sons and the blows of affliction fall not to punish but to correct. There is a vacant chair in every home, there are few hearts that have not known the discipline of sorrow. The fault of spiritual poverty is in ourselves, not in our surroundings, and he who cannot find the treasure of life here will discover no treasures hereafter. We do not want to go through the dark valley, but the stream of life bears us on and our griefs and joys are alike left behind us, proving that we are born for a higher destiny than earth. May we meet our departed brthren in that realm where the rainbow never fades, where the stars will spread out before us like the islands that slumber in the ocean, and where the beautiful beings that here pass before us like visions will stay in our presence forever."

The ceremonies over the lodges reformed and marched back to the hall, disbanding at 4:30 o'clock. There were many visitors at the cemetery and large numbers saw the parade at different points along the route of march.

RETURN OF THE QUADRA.

Everything Satisfactory Among the Coast Sealers and Indians.

The Dominion government steamer Quadra, Capt. Walbran, has returned from the West Coast. The object of her trip was two-fold. In the first place she had a lot of departmental business to attend to, and secondly Capt. Walbran had been instructed to look into the reported "stealing" of crews from British schooners by the captains of American schooners. On the way down a working party was landed at Carmanah point to build a new tank for the fog alarm. This work being completed, the Quadra proceeded to Cape Beale, where there was a lot of repairing to be done. While the workmen were busy at Capt Beale, the Quadra proceeded up the coast, Captain Walbran keeping a close lookout for American schooners and calling in at all the little bays and villages as far north as Hesquiot. The Victoria schooners were scattered all along the coast, but not any American schooners were seen or reported, and everything was going along satisfactorily, due no doubt to the presence of the Quadra. On her way home the Quadra called at Cape Beale and picked up the working party.

Very bad weather was experienced with the exception of the first three days, there being a great deal of wind and rain.

A Delightful Trip.

Intending passengers should consider the advisability of making their journey to eastern points in Canada and the United States via the Great Northern Railway to Duluth and thence via the magnificent new passenger steamers Northwest and Northland of the Northern Steamship Company, which are now in commission and making semi-weekly trips between Duluth and Buffalo, calling at intermediate lake ports. By taking this route all dust and excessive heat are avoided and a charming trip through the most beautiful lake scenery is made in superb floating palaces on which no freight whatever is carried. For full particulars apply to H. Martin, 75 Government street, general agent of the Great Northern Railway.

THE CELEBRATIONS ENDED

Critical Comparison of the Various Fleets—The Cruiser New York.

Berlin, June 22.—Public interest as might be expected has been monopolized in the past week with the festivities at Hamburg and Kiel, upon the occasion of the Kaiser Wilhelm canal, and Berlin has been deserted by nearly all the prominent men. The newspapers have devoted pages every day to the canal celebrations and everything done and said has been liberally commented upon. Emperor William's speech at the Hamburg banquet was enthusiastically received here and the stress laid by him on the peaceful significance of the event caused general pleasure and a most amicable entente seems to exist between the Emperor and all the German sovereigns. At the Hamburg banquet the Emperor, the moment the King of Bavaria rose to speak, poured wine into the latter's glass and his cordial attention to the King of Saxony were favorably noticed. His Majesty's pacific utterances have also been very well received in Austria. Dispatches from Vienna state that Herr Dumba, reporter of the budget committee, speaking to the Austrian delegation to-day, referred to the speeches of the Emperor saying: "The assurances of peace by our august ally find a mighty echo which is in perfect harmony with those words of peace. The creation of such a work of peace as the Baltic canal is a proof that both states and peoples nowadays are engaged in a widely different struggle and that the competition in the world's trade is now purely confined to the domain of economy."

The Emperor William and two of the leading marine painters, Herren Bohnot and Saltzmann, went to the opening of the canal, where he indicated to them, during his four days' stay, the best moments and occasions for sketches. They will execute a series of paintings representing the most striking views of the ceremonies and the paintings will be presented to the national gallery.

The naval correspondents of the German and Austrian newspapers have highly commended the appearance of the United States vessels and crews. They praised the ease of motion and exactness of their manoeuvres, according them first place in this respect. They style the New York the finest vessel of her type at Kiel. In this connection the critical comparison of the various warships at Kiel made by an English naval expert now there is especially interesting. Omitting the British fleet comparison, in order to avoid a semblance of partiality, he expressed the opinion after taking careful notice that, in respect to value and efficiency the various crews might be placed in the following order: (1) The Germans; (2) the French; (3) the Americans; (4) the Austrian; (5) the Russians; (6) Italians; (7) the Swedes; (8) the Dutch; (9) the Danes; (10) the Roumanians; (11) the Portuguese; (12) the Spanish.

Among Emperor William's special guests at Kiel were Lord Lonsdale and Mr. Poultney-Bigelow. The latter went to Kiel in his canoe from this city in five days, sailing or paddling and sleeping in the canoe.

It is expected that an international monetary conference will be called by Germany before October 15th. The Bundesrath, after receiving replies from the various federal governments, stands 16 to 43 in favor of such a conference. The opposing 16 members come from the three South German states and the Hansa towns of Hamburg, Bremen and Lubec, while Prussia, Saxony and the Middle States favor the calling of a monetary conference. The only point still unsettled is to what extent Germany, in calling the conference, is to engage herself. Whether she is to state the purpose as being the ultimate restoration of bimetallism or only to fix upon a new ratio between gold and silver?

The Emperor took a trip to Munich, Bavaria, on Monday last in order to determine upon the site and make the necessary arrangements for the building of the new Schack gallery of pictures, etc., which he has presented to that city. Count Adolphe Frederick von Schack, the millionaire author, died on April 16, 1894, and bequeathed his large picture gallery to Emperor William with the stipulation that it be added to the Berlin museum, but the Emperor decided that the gallery should remain at Munich, as that city was proud of it, and its removal would have fostered an anti-imperial tendency in the South German states. The people of Munich were so delighted at the action of the Emperor that they have decided to place a statue of His Majesty in the famous gallery with the wording of the telegraph conveying his determination to the Munich authorities inscribed on the pedestal. His Majesty's visit was quite unexpected and consequently there was nobody at the railroad station to meet him. He jumped into a common hack and while he was being driven to the palace of the regent, Prince Luitpold, he was saluted, being in plain uniform, by the officers of the garrison whom he passed on his way. Among the latter was Prince Arnulph, youngest son of the regent and lieut.-general of the first division in the infantry in the Bavarian army, and the husband of Princess Theresa of Liechenstein, who would be supposed to be well acquainted with His Majesty, but nobody recognized the Emperor for more than an hour later when he at length met the prince regent in some painter's studio. The art world of Munich, however, is delighted at his visit and with the Emperor's keen judgment and unaffected bonhommie.

According to the Danzig Zeitung, Mr. Gladstone, during his stay at Hamburg, expressed a desire to visit Prince Bismarck, but the latter declined. This report, however, is only a distorted version of the story cabled exclusively by the Associated Press on Sunday last, that Sir Donald Currie, upon whose steamer, the Tantallon Castle, Mr. Gladstone was a guest, visited Friedrichruhe with others on Saturday and Prince Bismarck excused himself from receiving them owing to the state of his health, and Mr. Henry Gladstone left a card upon behalf of his father, who did not accompany the party.

The officers and men attached to the American squadron are delighted with their visit. They have been most favorably impressed with all that they have seen and expect to remain here some days enjoying the hospitality of the various fleets. The officers consider the canal a most wonderful undertaking and say that the programme has been an astonishing success, and that the fetes from the first to last have been the biggest thing of the sort seen anywhere. The officers of the American squadron are also much struck with the attention paid to the details and the perfect organization noticable not only in connection with the canal but also in the whole inaugural proceedings. After the banquet last night the American officers were all presented to Emperor William and the Duke of York. The former was extremely affable. He cordially shook hands with the american officers and had a friendly word for each. During his conversation with Admiral Kirkland, Emperor William especially referred to the great interest shown in American naval matters. He mentioned Captain Alfred T. Mahan's book on "Sea Power." Of this work he spoke in terms highly eulogistic, adding: "I have told all my officers to study Captain Mahan's book well and to sleep with it under their pillows."

The American ships have been subjected to much attention, the naval officers in attendance admiring especially the Columbia.

The sailors from all the American boats have been daily feted. All of the ships have been illuminated each night from stem to stern, exciting the admiration of the crowds on shore. The illuminations, torchlight processions, music and festivities everywhere continue to-night. The manoeuvres of the review were universally pronounced a brilliant success. The movements of the ships were witnessed by princes and diplomats, while thousands of persons followed in steamers, launches and yachts.

HAPPY RESULTS IN CANADIAN HOMES.

From every city, town and village in Canada, mothers have written, telling how their children have grown, from weak and puny babes, to healthy, hearty and happy boys and girls, through being fed daily on Lactated Food.

This experience is confirmed by all mothers who have used Lactated, and hundreds of doctors who have recommended this best of all foods, vouch for the wonderful results it has accomplished.

When Lactated Food is used, weak babies are made strong; thin babies put on solid flesh; cross babies are made bright and contented, care and worry are banished from the family circle, and mother, father, sisters and brothers rejoice in the growth and development of the young babe.

CANADA FOR THE CANADIANS.

New Party Formed in Toronto—Too Much Federation.

Toronto, June 22.—A new party which may make radical changes in the government of the country was formed here last night under the title of the Canadian National Association. Some of its objects are the fostering of a national sentiment, working for the removal of the present system of dual languages, for the abolition of separate schools, so that there will be but one official language and one system of schools for Canada, and to disseminate information concerning Canada's mineral, agricultural, marine and lumbering industries. Only Canadians by birth are allowed to join the new organization, and thousands of applications have already been received. "Canada for Canadians," will be its motto.

None But Ayer's at the World's Fair.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla enjoys the extraordinary distinction of having been the only blood purifier allowed an exhibit at the World's fair, Chicago. Manufacturers of other sarsaparillas sought by every means to obtain a showing of their goods, but they were all turned away under the application of the rule forbidding the entry of patent medicines and nostrums. The decision of the World's fair authorities in favor of Ayer's Sarsaparilla was in effect as follows: "Ayer's Sarsaparilla is not a patent medicine. It does not belong to the list of nostrums. It is here on its merits."

NEWS OF THE INTERIOR

The Weather Cold and Backward in Several Districts—Murder and Suicide.

Activity in Rossland and the Contiguous Country—General Mining News.

REVELSTOKE.
The Inland Sentinel.

The weather in this locality has been remarkably backward for the month of June and the snow has not melted on the mountains to as great an extent as usual. The consequence is that prospectors who have claims at high elevations are unable to reach them. Several capitalists have been in the district for some time awaiting an opportunity to inspect properties which have been offered to them, but have had to await the removal of the snow. A party is expected to leave for Big Bend either this week or next week to examine some quartz claims, which run fairly rich in gold, but which have not been developed sufficiently to form a just estimate of their quality.

NICOLA LAKE.

A few days ago information came down from Douglas Lake that a Siwash had shot his wife and then shot himself. Mr. John Clapperton, Dr. Sutton, and Mr. J. Gillie, provincial officer, went up and a coroner's inquest was held. The Siwash was known as Pretty Fred, and lived about Graves' place. The affair occurred about a mile or two the other side of the ranch. They were riding along, the Siwash behind, when he drew his revolver and shot three times. The first shot entered the breast and the klootch fell off her horse. The second shot went wide, but the third entered the heart and death was instantaneous. The first shot, however, would have proved fatal. Pretty Fred then shot himself dead. From the evidence before the coroner's inquest it appears that the Siwash was crazed at the time, but it is also said it was another case of jealousy and immorality, with which some whites were connected.

Piping for the hydraulic mines at Granite and Similkameen and pack trains continue to go out. The spirit of the ranchers is more hopeful than for some time past, in anticipation of what the fall may have in store, and already reason of rise in prices of grain and hogs, although crops are away behind with the continued cold weather.

ROSSLAND.
Revelstoke Mail.

The pay vein has been struck on the Robert E. Lee. At the time of writing the vein is about two feet in width. The highest assay is $67.80, the average being over $30.00.

The Kootenay Tip-Top and Northern Star are blossoming like a rose. On the Kootenay the ledge has been uncovered for a width of forty feet and assays well. The North Star is perhaps the pick of the combination.

John Swift has brought in from his claim, the Musti Hie, some samples of ore which appear to contain nickel. Assays will be made to-morrow. As nickel is known to exist in this neighborhood, it is likely that Swift's claim may be a valuable one apart from the gold and silver it contains.

Mike Sullivan and Wm. Dunn are now developing the Hill-Top, which lies adjacent to the Robert E. Lee.

It is reported on good authority that a smelter will be built at Trail Landing instead of Northport. Property in Mr. Topping's townsite is going up in consequence.

Mr. Postmaster Stossi has sold the High Ore to A. B. Railton for $3,000, and an interest in the capital stock of the company, which is being formed to take over the property.

Mr. Rolfe, of the Nelson Sawmill Co., is in town. He expects to commence the installation of the electric plant at an early date.

Mr. Farwell, civil engineer, is in Rossland and will survey several claims during the summer.

The telephone system is now nearly complete.

Fred Algiers brought in some fine specimens from the Puzzle to-day. The ore contains about 30 per cent. of malachite.

—Byron used a great deal of hair-dressing, but was particular to have only the best to be found in the market. If Ayer's Hair Vigor had been obtainable then, doubtless he would have tested its merits, as so many distinguished and fashionable people are doing now-a-days

AMERICAN DISPATCHES.

Interesting News From Various Parts of the Republic.

Lincoln, Neb., June 24.—A riot occurred yesterday among the convicts of the state penitentiary. The guards had thrown open a tier of cells to let in a squad of convicts, when immediately an Italian prisoner named Scalesi dashed out, armed with a stiletto, which he had made of scrap iron, and savagely attacked a fellow convict. The fight became general, all the liberated convicts and the guards joining in the melee, and every man who harbored a grudge against another took advantage of the opportunity to "get even." Three convicts attacked the Italian, who extricated himself and fled. He soon ran afoul of Guard Dan Athen, who struck him on the head with a loaded cane, cutting a deep gash. The Italian was removed to the hospital.

New York, June 24.—Joseph Emerson, 13 years old, colored, of Brooklyn, found a bomb on Speedway yesterday and picked it up, when it exploded. All the fingers on one of the hands were blown off.

Washington, June 24.—An eminent Catholic ecclesiastic says of the recent Roman cable to the London Standard that Cardinal Gibbons presented to the pope a protest of American bishops against the continuance of Mgr. Satolli's mission in the United States: "The American bishops made no such protest, and the statement that Cardial Gibbons or anyone else is its bearer is an unqualified falsehood. He had not been in Rome for ten years. It is usual to make a decennial visit and the present time was chosen as opportune. Naturally, being with the pope the first time in so many years, the whole range of the church affairs in America will be gone over, including, no doubt, the success of the pope's special mission to America, but this will not be from any standpoint a protest from American bishops. The time for that has gone by."

Chicago, Ill., June 24.—By the explosion of a steam valve in the whaleback Christopher Columbus, off Waukegan on Saturday night, two men were killed and thirteen dangerously injured. It was the homeward run of the whaleback in the open summer excursion to Milwaukee and about 250 passengers were on board.

NANAIMO NEWS.

The Cycling Club Sports on Saturday—Close Shooting Contest.

Nanaimo, June 24.—The Nanaimo Cycling club held their annual sports on the Caledonian grounds on Saturday. There was some very good riding and the number of prizes gave every rider a chance to win one. A. Deeming won the mile race, having to compete with four riders, each riding a quarter of a mile. W. Gray won the other principal races. J. McGregor also took several prizes.

The pigeon shoot on Saturday at the Quarter Way House resulted in a tie between Dr. Eberts and C. Martin. In the first shoot both competitors secured nine birds out of ten. Then three more birds were allowed and every shot told, so that another shoot will have to be arranged to decide the championship.

Bucci, the Italian charged with stealing a silver watch at Union, was sentenced on Saturday by Judge Harrison to fifteen months in prison.

The Nanaimo Silver Cornet band were out with their new instruments on Saturday night, and judging from the selections played, those who assisted the band will have no cause to regret having done so.

A false alarm from the fire station caused a throng of citizens to rush along the streets yesterday. "Fooled again," was the universal expression.

—The funeral of Mary Jessie Galbraith took place Saturday afternoon from the residence of her mother, Pendrell street. There were services at the house and grave conducted by Rev. H. Trotter and Rev. P. H. McEwen. The pall bearers were: Elmore Dier, H. W. Northcott, Chas. McNeill, Angus Galbraith, Neil McNeill and Wm. Russell.

—The At Home given at A. O. U. W. Hall on Saturday night by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Jubilee Hospital was very well attended and passed off very successfully. There was an interesting programme, in which Miss Jameson, Miss McNiffe, Miss Collins, Mrs. Mesher, Miss Penwill and the Richardson orchestra assisted. The refreshments of strawberries and cream and cake were served and dancing concluded the evening.

—The Arion Club will give a public concert at Institute Hall on Wednesday evening. It will be given for charity and the programme, made up of the best numbers of concerts given during the year, is as follows:

Waken, Lords and Ladies Gay..... Mendelssohn
Spinn, Spinn ..... Jungst
A Wet Sheet and a Flowing Sea..... Lloyd
Stars of the Summer Night ..... Hatton
Selection from the song the Little Bal-
long ..... A. M. Smith
Lutsow's Wild Chase ..... Weber
Bugle Song ..... Dudley Buck
Hunter's Joy ..... Astholz
Home ..... Kreutzer
An Italian Salad ..... Genee
Jubilee Waltz ..... Chadwick
On the Water ..... Abt
Pilgrims' Chorus from Tannhauser .....
..... Wagner

Mr. Eurick, pianist, will assist with accompaniments.

—The "Haymakers," by Dr. Root, now under rehearsal by the First Presbyterian choir conducted by Mr. J. G. Brown, will be given on Friday evening, the 28th instant. The work abounds in good music and the quartettes, duets, and indeed all the concerted numbers are especially pleasing. The solo and chorus by "Simpkins," the city dude (personated by Mr. W. D. Kinnaird), and the choir, entitled "The Fireman's Song," is magnificent. It is dramatic in the extreme. The shrill cry of "fire, fire," is heard at first far away, then nearer and nearer, until the full chorus takes up the cry. Meanwhile the soloist is describing the progress of the engines and firemen in a most realistic way, until the climax is reached, when the fireman saves a child. Such is one of the many excellent numbers of which the cantata is made up. Miss Wilson, a pupil of the Conservatory of Music, will sing the soprano solos; Mrs. Gregson, a late arrival in this city from Winnipeg, will sing the mezzo soprano parts; Mr. G. F. Watson, tenor; Mr. John Cochrane, baritone; Mr. H. Wilson, bass; Mrs. Hall, accompanist; Mr. Brown, conductor. At the close of the cantata a small programme of songs will be given by some of our best known singers, including Mr. C. W. Rhodes, Miss Duffie and Mr. Brown.

THEOSOPHICAL SOCIETY.

"The Astral Light" was the subject of the paper read last evening at the Theosophical Society's public meeting. Among other things it was said that as matter varies in degrees of density there can be no reason why we should not postulate other conditions still more ethereal, to one of which might be given the name astral light; that the astral man is related to the astral light as man's body is to the objective world; and that as vapor is moulded into clouds in the atmosphere, so upon the astral plane is the astral light moulded into form, these bodies being perceptible to those whose astral senses have become active. That in this statement we have a solid foundation of fact, demonstrated by genuine phenomena of the spiritualists, and corroborated by the investigation of at least one of our most eminent scientists. But as to the explanation of the phenomena Theosophists and Spiritualists "agree to differ" widely. In speaking of the dynamic power of thought and the elemental kingdom an adept was quoted: "Every thought of man upon being evolved passes into another world and becomes an active entity by associating itself with an elemental—that is to say, with one of the semi-intelligent forces of the kingdoms. It survives as an active intelligence—a creature of the mind's begetting for a longer or shorter period, proportionate with the original intensity of the cerebral action which generated it. Thus a good thought is perpetuated as an active beneficent power, an evil one as a maleficent demon. And a man is continually peopling his current in space with the offspring of his fancies, desires, impulses and passions; a current which reacts upon any sensitive or nervous organization which comes in contact with it, in proportion to its dynamic intensity. Thoughts are more potent for good, or more productive of evil, than actions, for the thought is the cause and the action merely the effect.—Com.

In Your Blood

Is the cause of that tired, languid feeling which afflicts you at this season. The blood is impure and has become thin and poor. That is why you have no strength, no appetite, cannot sleep. Purify your blood with Hood's Sarsaparilla, which will give you an appetite, tone your stomach and invigorate your nerves.

"No; his specialty is the kind of work that is not heard of. He was never brought to trial."

Elevator Boy (scornfully)—Yes; everything except telegraph boys.

Adelaide—Don't you think Miss Van Waffles is a very handsome young woman?

Adelaide—Why, you have met her a dozen times.

Poppington—Yes, but she was always chewing gum.

THE PIONEER SHIP ARRIVES.

The British steamship Chittagong, the pioneer ship of the O. R. & N. Co., established by Samuel Samuels & Co., of Japan, and F. C. Davidge & Co., of this city, arrived here last night, but did not dock until this morning. She was delayed in getting away from Yokohama until June 5, and her voyage consumed nearly 19 days. She had head winds and heavy weather nearly all the way across. On Thursday last she passed the wreck of a ship floating bottom up. It was floating very low in the water and as the Chittagong passed at a distance of nearly a mile it was impossible to learn the name of the derelict. Any doubt about the character of the floating object was dissipated by wreckage seen both before and after the main wreck was sighted. On the preceding day the second officer observed the lower mast of a ship floating very close to the vessel. The location of the derelict was latitude 49.58 north, longitude 141 west, and it was sighted at 8 p.m. on Thursday, June 20. Not a sail was seen from coast to coast by those aboard the Chittagong. The cape was in sight early yesterday afternoon and was passed last evening. She came up very slowly, but ran on past Port Angeles, the city lights making it impossible to see the flashes from the pilot sloop Helen. However, Pilot Babbington was taken on about daylight this morning and the ship was speedily brought to the dock.

Rev. Worcester was the only cabin passenger. He is an American missionary who has been at work in Japan for several years and is returning to his former home in Iowa. He will spend a day or so here before leaving for the American side. There were 12 Chinese passengers, all of whom were landed here. The vessel did not bring any Japanese passengers. She brought no late war news of special importance.

The ship brought a cargo of 2,500 tons, made up principally of tea and nearly all for transhipment from Portland. She discharged 50 tons here. Her shipments for the Sound are light. She will go to Portland from here, leaving some time this afternoon, and will be back here on her way outward in about eight or ten days. She will have a very fair cargo homeward, considerable freight having been already contracted for at Portland.

The officers of the Chittagong are: Captain, Oliver Davey; second officer, John Donovan; purser, Bishp; chief engineer, James Wilson; first assistant, Murray, and second assistant, Sproat. Purser Bishop resigned the stewardship of the Tacoma on the Northern Pacific line to accept the position on the Chittagong, and before that was on the Empress of Japan. Capt. Davey and most of the officers are old hands at the business, having been attached to these waters. The Chittagong is a 1241 ton ship with a carrying capacity of 2,500 tons dead weight. She was built in 1881 by Rayton, Dixon & Co., of Middlesboro on Tees. She was in the Indian trade at first, and was for several years a rice carrier. Rice requires careful ventilation and the ship is fitted with an extra fine set of ventilators. She is capable of an average speed of 10 knots. She is under charter to the present line for six months and will make at least [illegible]

DEFEAT OF THE AMITIES.

The Amities had a smooth trip to Seattle on Saturday. The Rosalie made splendid time, landing the boys at the Seattle dock shortly after two. The Amities were met at the wharf by Manager Russell and Messrs. McKinstry and Noble of the Seattle Athletic Club, and immediately taken to the club's quarters, where they were treated with every courtesy. The day was perfect for sport, and everything pointed to a close contest. It took a little while for the Seattle audience to get acquainted with the players chosen to represent them. People could be heard inquiring in this strain: "Who is that man at short, and where did he come from?" "That fellow at second handles himself rather well, and I wonder where he hails from?" And so on. After a few innings the audience saw that the men gathered from Arlington, Snohomish, and other outside localities were rather good ball players, but there was little enthusiasm, and about as much local interest as if Ports Gamble and Ludlow were playing on Seattle grounds. As one Seattle gentleman put it: "We are not entitled to any credit for this victory over Victoria, because it is not a Seattle team. This is a bad precedent of the S. A. C.'s, and the only way for Victoria to get even is to import some players from San Francisco, tog them up in Amity uniforms, and dub them a representative Victoria nine. Such action on the part of the Seattle Athletic Club in getting outside players should be looked into by the National Amateur Association. What guarantee have visiting clubs that they are contesting with amateurs, when the Seattle Athletic Club goes skirmishing around the country for players. I doubt very much whether half of the men playing for Seattle today are members of the Seattle Athletic Club. The victory, anyhow, is a hollow one, for the importation of outside men to play against Victoria means, if it means anything at all, that Seattle today is unable to select nine players out of a population three times that of Victoria to contest against the Amities."

These remarks hit the nail, and if the S. A. C. persists in a policy which has certainly a strong tendency towards the encouragement of professionalism, the S. A. C. members cannot grumble if the amateur clubs of the Pacific coast take small stock in the claim of the S. A. club to be considered on an amateur basis. Manager Russell is skirmishing the country for a speedy pitcher, and the Seattle Athletic Club, with 800 members, is represented to-day by a team of questionable amateur status.

Respecting the game itself, it was certainly an off-day for Victoria. The fielding was of the wildest description, the men taking random shots at each other, trusting that the ball would land somewhere, anywhere, but the sphere being mostly nowhere within reach. There were a few excuses though. The diamond was slow, being soft and dusty, and in marked contrast to the fast ground the boys have been accustomed to this season. The home team began scoring at the start, the first man to the bat leading with a double, and the next man following with a single, the inning closing with three tallies. Lenfesty settled down in the second, and the batters were disposed of in rapid order. In the third, though the home team got three more on hits and costly errors. The Amities made a spurt in the sixth, when Gus Gauwen, Widdowson and Huxtable rapped out timely hits, and three runs crossed the plate, and Victoria drew up to something like even terms with the Seattle team. In the last three innings though, the Amities crowned their wretched work by going to pieces, the Seattle men running the bases at pleasure, pounding out hits, and the Amities doing their best to swell Seattle's score by making errors at critical moments. The Amities scored one in the eight and another in the ninth, the last run being the only earned one on hits by Jackson and S. Schultz. Luck was certainly against Victoria, for all the Amities had no difficulty in hitting the ball, only one man being struck out, but no matter in what direction the ball was lined it invariably dropped into the mits of a fielder. Widdowson made a catch behind the first bag that showed to a nicety the amount of ground Victoria's second baseman can cover when called upon. The catch was appreciated by the Seattle audience, who cheered most enthusiastically. Scott's work at third was also of the best order. Lenfesty, notwithstanding the poor support received, stuck to his work manfully, and did his best to keep the runs within respectable limits. Huxtable was, as usual, steady and reliable.

TRI-COLLEGE RACE.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 24.—All is ready for the tri-college boat race today. The race will be called at 4.30 p.m., when the tide will be on the ebb and running strong. Only the referee yachts, police boat and press launch will be permitted to follow the crews. The revenue cutter Manhattan will be here to enforce the rules of the course.

Cornell is the favorite for the first place. Even money rules, with an occasional bet of 2 to 1.

THE WHEEL.

CARWARDINO CUP.

London, June 22.—A twenty-four hour bicycle race against time was started yesterday evening at Putney for the Carwardino cup. It was won by C. C. Fontaine, who covered 474¾ miles, beating the amateur record by fourteen miles. J. J. Patterson was second with a score of 468¼ miles to his credit.

Pittsburg, June 24.—Arthur Zimmerman, who is here to ride exhibition trials at the local bicycle races, says that under no circumstances will he meet Johnson in a race for the championship this year. Zimmerman will leave in August for Australia, and says if Johnson really wants a race for $5,000 a side that he will find a man to race him for that amount. He will not say who the unknown is.

Chicago, June 24.—Private Alfred Matthew, of the United States army, bearing dispatches from General Miles, Fort Hamilton, N. Y., to General Wesley Merritt, Chicago, arrived in this city yesterday afternoon, having made the 1,200 miles by bicycle in 13 days 7 hours 45 minutes, beating the western record by 1 hour and 15 minutes.

THE WHEEL.

KAVANAGH WINS.

There were but three starters in the 10½-mile bicycle race at Beacon Hill on Saturday. S. P. Moody started from scratch; T. G. Moody had 1 minute and 40 seconds and Kavanagh 1 minute. The latter won with ease in 30.03.

Canadian News.

Toronto, June 24.—"The Rainy River district is booming now," said Frank Conmee, M. P. P. for Algoma West, to a reporter. "The mines are being developed and discoveries are being made daily. Four stamp mills are in operation and prospectors are on the ground looking out for getting others in operation. The ore is very rich and people are swarming in, the majority of them being Americans coming in by way of Duluth. There is one thing we need though, and that is a railway. (Late General Agent Eastern.)

You Wash

Sometimes. Of course you do. And When you wash anything you use SOAP. Now that's what we want to speak about—SOAP. We manufacture Soaps of all kinds; from the most delicately scented toilet Soaps to that greatest of all cleansers, Brown Windsor Soap. And they are the best in the market. You can't beat them for value, purity or cleansing qualities.

Always Use Pendray's.
Ask Your Grocer for Pendray's.

The Prince of Wales . . .

And a few others don't buy their clothing from us, probably because they can buy nearer home. The quality and fit of our suits would probably satisfy them if they did buy.

OUR PRICES
